Spraying Fruit Trees.

Many farmers who bave never paid whether they were bearing apples or bananas, are now looking up on such matters as grafting, pruning and spray-

The experienced truit growers of course are all looking out for the spraying at this season of the year. The Vermont Experiment station says that the mail is looded with inquiries on this subject, and in response to the general interest, they have sent us the following information. Onestions on other points may be addressed by letter or postal card to Experiment Station, Burlington.

The first requisite is a good spray pump with the necessary rigging. The outht can be bought of the manufacturers or of the implement dealers, and will cost anywhere from $10 to $200. A

Just at this time of year the spraying needed by fruit trees is chiefly for the prevention of lungus diseases. For this purpose a plain solution of copper sulphate, one pound in 10 to 20 gallons of water may be used. Bordeaux mixture is equally as good, but it is more bother to make. The first spraying should be given at once, before the blossoms open.

A little later, just after the blossoms fall, another spraying should be given. This should be bordeaux mixture in every case. Bordeaux mixture may be made of standard mixture consists of 1 /spounds the sulphate and slack the lime in sepahis half brother, James C. Simpson. He pour the sulphate solution into the lime water while stirring vigorously. Continue the stirring for a minute to insure perfect mixture. It deteriates on standing and should be used soon after made, Keep the mixture clean to avoid clogging of pump and nozzles. Strain the solutions and have a strainer on suction tube of pump. A quick, convenient way to dissolve copper sulphate is to suspend it in a cheesecloth or similar bag just below the surface of the water. A third spraying two weeks later, with bordeaux mixture, will be a paying investment. Even a fourth and fifth spraying, at intervals of two weeks, will sometimes pay handsome dividends. In all sprayings, except the first, some paris green should be used. Add one pound paris green to 200 gallons of water, or four ounces to the barrel. If 150 leet long by 60 feet wide. The there is danger of bud moth the paris green might better be used in the first spraying also.

There is a difference between vain repetitions and importunity. Repetition is not always vain; when it is the result of our earnestness of desire, then God will hear us for our very importunity. God does not give just what we ask;

knows our needs better than we know them ourselves, and our asking must always be in humble reliance upon his better wisdom: 'Not as I will, but as thou wilt."

God's power alone can enable us to overcome temptations; in ourselves we are utterly h lpless,-we may have his strength for the asking.

SELECTIONS.

Profitable prayer has its foundation in Bible knowledge. Its wals are love for God's service. Its doorway is thanksroof is adoration. There are as many rooms as there are experiences and needs in life. Every room is furnished in a different way. If we are hungry, it is a dining room; if in doubt, a library; if weary, a bedroom; if lonely, a parlor. For every Christian, this house is the home of

When thou prayest, rather let thy heart Le without words than thy words without heart, and remember emphatically, either prayer will make thee cease from sin, or sin will certainly entice thee

I know of no nob'er picture of prayer than Philip Brooks': Prayer is not conquering God's reluctance, but taking hold upon God's willingness.
